

February 17, 2012

REFERENCE: Summit Restoration
Las Vegas, NV.

To whom it may concern,

Over the last six years I have developed a close professional relationship with Will Dellaechaie and his team members at Summit Restoration. Although we are typically competitors in the same market, Will has always maintained a level of professionalism unsurpassed in our industry. Most noticeably I recall a situation where I was working out of state due to a catastrophic freeze in El Paso TX. I found myself in need of a consultant and knew that Will was also in the area. With only a phone call I was able to get him to review my project. With his advice and direction I was then able to deliver the best possible product to my client.

It is Will's commitment to excellence that makes me confident in recommending Summit Restoration as a premier provider of mitigation services in Southern Nevada...and beyond.

Sincerely,

Matt McKinney
Project Manager